CONFERENCE ON PAVEMENT HERE
WILL BE HELD*Representatives of Companies
Promise to Make Repairs

City Commission at Meeting Last Night

Representatives of two paving companies which did the paving work in paving district No. 1 (the downtown district) will hold a conference in Bismarck this month for the purpose of arranging to take care of any necessary work on the pavement, according to information conveyed to the city commission in a letter from Warren Brothers, sub-contractors.

The letter was submitted at the commission meeting last night by City Attorney O'Hare. The letter said that "after a conference on the work, arrangements will be made for prompt attention, where any trouble is due to inferior workmanship or material on our part."

Mr. O'Hare also addressed a letter to the commission in which he suggested immediate steps be taken by the commission for an investigation of the paving in this district, which has been said by commissioner members to be defective in many respects.

The first matter brought before the commission was a letter from Herman Lasken, who is constructing a building at Fifth and Main streets. He complained that there was a considerable amount of dirt, lumber, building material and rubbish and a frame building which had been moved upon lot 15 in that block, and which he thought ought to be moved. S. S. Clifford was present and also asked about it. He also asked the city commissioners if they had made any investigation of the fire which destroyed frame buildings at Fifth and Main. Commissioner Henzler, it was decided, will take up the matter of investigation of the fire with the fire marshal and states attorney and also would look into Lasken's complaint and order the material and building removed if in violation of city ordinances.

S. S. Clifford also complained of cows being allowed to graze in the eastern part of the city, saying he could not rent a lot for gardening because of this and he didn't want to fence the property. The commissioners discussed the matter of amending the present ordinance to extend from North street to Sixteenth street, the limit in which cows must be led through the streets to, and from pasture.

Letter on Theaters
A letter was received from R. F. Jager, fire chief, on his inspection of the Auditorium and motion picture houses. Some complaints were made which the commission was informed, would be remedied by all the theater owners.

The matter of enforcing an ordinance requiring connection of houses to sewers was discussed, and the city auditor was instructed to notify all owners of property within the paving district to connect houses to sewers within the paving district.

On motion of Commissioner Thompson, after the railroad commissions' order extending the period of surcharge of the Bismarck Gas company was read, the commission decided to ask the railroad commission for a test of the quality of gas furnished.

Members of the commission also discussed the matter of regulation of dance halls. Just how far the city can go in the matter of regulation and licensing, since the state license department licenses dance halls and has authority to regulate them, as a matter of debate. Complaints had been made to members of the commission of the conduct at some dance halls.

"HOW I FOUND OUT GUSHER INSIDE THE ARCTIC CIRCLE!"

The Tribune publishes today the story of the geologist who located the Fort Norman oil gusher, the new fountain of wealth in Arctic Canada, which is the goal of an oil rush—the like of which has not been seen since the famous gold rush to the Klondike. This gusher was located by Theodore A. Link, geologist for the Imperial Oil Co. Ltd. of Canada, who, in the following article, tells of his perilous experiences and indicates the barriers confronting the hundreds of oil prospectors now starting from Edmonton, Canada, on the 1,800-mile journey through Canadian wilds. After sending this story to the Tribune Link started back to Fort Norman by airplane.

BY THEODORE A. LINK.

Edmonton, Can., May 10.—Any attempt to predict what lies in the future for the Fort Norman oil field is purely speculative. The first well, which gave results far greater than were expected, does not prove that a large oil field has been tapped.

A great deal of time, money and hard work must be expended before an oil field in that frozen north country is to be established. Thousands and thousands of dollars will be spent and a few fortunate investors may become rich. Many more, however, will never get back the money spent, even if an oil field is developed.

To drill the first test well at Fort Norman cost the Imperial Oil Ltd. $150,000. The drill was not landed completely at Oil Creek until seven months had elapsed—and a great deal of luck and risk were connected with the transportation of that rig.

Exploration Work.

John Zieman and I arrived at Fort Norman July 3, 1919, on a Royal Northwest Mounted Police boat. We left the motorboat 90 miles north of Fort Norman and commenced geological work in a canoe.

We ascended creeks, climbed mountains and reached points never seen by white man before.

Black flies and mosquitoes made our lives almost unbearable. The windfall and muskewamp made progress almost impossible. The biting heat of the sun drained us of vitality so that I was twice forced to drop from exhaustion and bury my head in the cool moss and under a tree.

Examinations and prospecting of that sort we carried on to a point 110 miles inside the Arctic Circle.

Battling Mosquitoes.

After returning to Fort Norman we ascended the Great Bear river, 50 miles. Here we encountered a swarm of mosquitoes so thick that they seemed to be fighting for space on our faces.

We made a trip of 16 miles over mountains 3,000 feet high.

We arrived back at our camp on the Great Bear River, near its confluence with the Mackenzie, after 48 hours of tramping, at 2 A. M., Aug. 3, hungry, but too tired to eat.

We expected to find there a steamboat with the drilling crew and the rig, but it had not arrived, although it was already two days overdue.

At noon we had regained enough interest in life to prepare our lambsmeat meal. We fried some potatoes and made soup from an odd bone from the remains of our bacon.

No fish could be caught, and so we just lay amidst an attack of bulldog flies.

On March Again.

At 11 that night we decided that it was a matter of not eating, or walking to Fort Norman. We started on a trip up the Mackenzie river with enough porridge for one meal and five pieces of hardtack.

It was a long and dreary trudge, with the dancing of the Northern Lights overhead seeming to emphasize our misery.

We ate our remaining rations at 1 A. M., slept 15 minutes and resumed the march. It was very cold during the few hours the sun was behind the mountains, but soon after sun rise it became very warm again.

We reached an Indian's camp and borrowed his canoe.

Lo! the steamer Northland Trade appeared and took us aboard. We had walked 55 miles with nothing to eat! Sleep was out of the question because I was needed to point out the landing place for the machinery. We finally arrived at Oil Creek at mid night, Aug. 7.

After a great deal of anxiety on our part, the motor boat bringing down the remaining part of the drilling rig arrived Sept. 26. But we had given up all hopes of its arrival and had reached Fort Norman on our way back to civilization.

We left a crew of six to winter at Oil Creek so they could commence drilling in early spring and started back to Edmonton, arriving Oct. 21. We set out for Fort Norman the 13th of the following May with 22 tons of freight. The outfit on 150 cows was pushed down Peace River by motorboat.

At Vermilion Chutes a four-mile portage had to be made. The cows had to be run through the rapids and let down with ropes 20 feet over a limestone ledge. The largest scow was wrecked. Only through heroic efforts were the contents saved.

Hair-raising thrills and narrow escapes. In running the 15 miles of Smith Rapids will ever remain in my memory. We ran one rapid which had never been shot before and were the first all white crew to take a scow through Smith Rapids.

We crossed Great Slave Lake in a leaky scow carrying seven tons more freight than it should have had. We landed at the well July 8. The crew which had wintered at the well had been living on fish and flour for three weeks. The well was down 305 feet.

Gusher is Struck.

A gusher was struck Aug. 25. Preparations for a new site were made and now everything is in readiness for a new rig.

HOTEL OWNER*E. G. Patterson Struck After Altercation with Steward

R. P. Mitchell, steward at the McKeen's hotel, is under arrest today on a charge of assaulting E. G. Patterson, proprietor of the hotel with a dangerous weapon. A second complaint was filed against him by Mrs. Lillian Hubbard, hotel employee, charging assault and battery and alleging Mitchell killed and beat her.

Mitchell was held under $1,500 bonds to appear before Justice of the Peace Dolan.

It was alleged Mitchell struck Patterson on the back of the head with a pastry iron, the blow cutting the hair and causing a laceration. He also was alleged to have struck Patterson in the face after Patterson said he had been dazed by the blow from the pastry iron.

Mitchell when arraigned indicated he would contest the case.

Patterson said he discharged Mitchell upon complaint of a waitress, that he would not give her an order for a customer and charged that Mitchell had insulted girls in the place and kicked Mrs. Lillian Hubbard and Mrs. Irene Greenburg, the latter the mother of two children.

He said Mitchell followed him upstairs when he went after a gun and tried to beat him in a door to his apartment.

Mitchell when arraigned said Patterson had accused him of an insolent attitude toward the girls employed there, denied it and said that he struck Patterson with his fist after he had been abused. He denied using a pastry iron.

He claimed he followed Patterson upstairs to get his check. Mitchell came here recently from Minneapolis.

Phone 32*RAILROADS ARE AUTHORIZED TO INCREASE RATE*North Dakota Loses Case Before
Interstate Commerce
Commission*UP ON OR BEFORE JUNE 10*State to Appeal to United States Supreme Court in Matter

Washington, May 9.—North Dakota railroads were ordered by the interstate commerce commission to advance passenger, Pullman, excess baggage and freight rates applying the same percentage increases as were ordered last August by the commission in the general rate increase.

The passenger and excess baggage charges would be increased 20 per cent, the 50 per cent surcharge on Pullman space would be applied and freight rates within the state would be increased 35 per cent. The order is effective on or before June 10.

The commission's decision follows a line of similar cases where rates and charges on traffic within a state were held to be prejudicial to interstate traffic.

The state will appeal the rate case to the United States supreme court. "In the appeal it will be denied that the Interstate Commerce Commission has any authority or jurisdiction to force upon the state railway rates that are far higher than those of Minnesota and other states and therefore unjust and discriminatory," said Assistant Attorney General W. A. Anderson.

The action of the commission has been followed in numerous other cases where state railroad commissions refused to put into effect railroad rate increases and the railroads had appealed to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The national commission had ordered increases for various parts of the country. The increase was twice granted by the North Dakota commission, knocked out in court and then denied and the appeal taken by the railroads. The hearing was held here recently with Attorney General Lemke and Karl Knux Gartner, representing the state.

A telegram received by the railroad commission today from the National Railway Association said:

"Interstate Commerce Commission has just issued orders advancing North Dakota rates on passenger and freight service except on commodities and special passenger. Also milk and cream effective on or before June 10."

Colwell 2,887, and two other candidates were trailing.

THIRD MAN SHOT IN JAMESTOWN
REGAINS CONSCIOUSNESS; MAY LIVE

Jamestown, May 10. (By the Associated Press) The third man in the fight between N. P. detectives and transients in Jamestown Sunday afternoon, partially recovered consciousness today but his entire left side is paralyzed and physicians have been unable to get him to talk enough to tell his side of the story.

The preliminary hearing will be held this afternoon beginning with inspection of one body at Flint's undertaking parlors and one at Eddy-Procutors undertaking establishment after which the hearing will be continued.

No developments have come which have changed the previous stories regarding the shooting nor the status of the men involved, according to authorities. There was considerable feeling here expressed by some men against the officers, but nothing developed of unusual proportions. The local officers support the Northern Pacific detectives on the ground that they acted in self-defense solely.

The preliminary hearing of the two detectives, who were placed under arrest, is expected to produce the full story of the shooting, and it is thought probable that the detectives may be released when the official record is made.

Worked in Mandan

A theory that the three men, victims of the shooting affair at Jamestown might have had something to do with the bank robbery at Tuttle, was shattered this afternoon when railroad employees in Mandan insisted that Harrison and Harley, two of the victims, were in Mandan on Friday night in company with another man who several men declare was Johnson. The explanation of the great amount of money on Johnson's person is made by friends who said he had been employed in the plant of the Hebron Fire and Pressed Brick company for over a year and had recently cashed his savings.

Harrison worked in Mandan for two months and was laid off about five weeks ago in the Mandan machine shops. He left Mandan Friday night. For the last two weeks he had earned his board by working in a Mandan restaurant.

Rathbor, Upper Silesia, May 10.—German control crossed the Oder river into Upper Silesia just before daylight yesterday morning and captured six Poles, one of whom was suspected of killing a number of Germans. The leader of the patrol, a civilian 23 years old, declared the Poles had admitted the killing. When asked what he was going to do about it the patrol leader said:

Fire on Frenchman.

NEW FINANCING METHODS HELD SCHOOLS' NEED

Miss Nielson Says Problem Is To Find New Sources of Revenue

NAMES A COMMITTEE

Special Body to Undertake Study of Means and Report to Legislature

A special committee to study methods of raising school revenues and generally financing education in North Dakota has been appointed by Miss Minnie J. Nielson, state superintendent of public instruction. The committee will prepare a report for the next legislature.

"School revenue is becoming one of the big problems before the people of the nation today," said Miss Nielson. "In the past school revenue has come mainly from taxes on real estate and personal property, and property has not increased in value adequate to supply that revenue necessary to keep up with the increased number of persons to be educated."

"Studies are now being made in many states with a view of determining other means of providing necessary additional revenue. In West Virginia a tax has been placed on sign boards and on a popular soft drink. California has adopted numerous taxes to provide revenues."

"School finances in the state are going through a crisis at this time. North Dakota is not, however, alone in this matter."

The committee named by Miss Nielson follows: Edward Erickson, state school inspector; G. W. Hanna, of Valley City, president state educational association; M. B. Cassell, representing school officers' association; Geo. A. McFarland, of Williston, representing city superintendents; S. J. Boyd, of Langdon, representing county superintendents. Miss Nielson is chairman. A meeting will be held in Grand Forks at the time of the state high school conference.

The committee includes two members who formerly were members of the legislature and others who have spent years in promoting education in North Dakota and are familiar with the subject.

PRIMARY FIGHT IN MILL CITY NEARS FINISH

Van Lear and Leach Leaders in Hard-Fought Campaign for Nomination

SOCIALISTS ARE BUSY

Minneapolis, Minn., May 9.—Candidates for municipal offices, for the most part, wound up their campaign yesterday and today for the city primary election tomorrow. Registration of voters is less than at the last election. In November, the number qualified to vote Monday being approximately 110,000.

The three principal candidates seeking the mayoralty nomination—Colonel George E. Leach, T. H. Colwell, and Thomas Van Lear—waged extensive campaigns which continued until today. At many of the meetings, all three spoke from the same platform.

Outstanding in the primary election this year is the race for mayor. From a list of ten persons filing for the office, withdrawals of half that number have dwindled the number of office seekers to five. Col. Leach is the nominee of an unofficial Republican city convention, while Thomas Van Lear, former mayor, has the backing of the Trades & Labor Assembly and the Working People's Nonpartisan Political League. Mr. Colwell, although a Republican, refused to participate in the Republican convention and decided to stay in the race after declaring the unofficial convention violated the spirit and letter of the present primary law.

Edward Mauer, Socialist candidate, and D. B. Kested, and others who filed for mayor.

Among those withdrawing from the mayoralty race were Fred E. Wheaton, well known Democrat, and Henry B. Rutledge, former service men's candidate. The former declared his action was necessary to make it less difficult to defeat what he termed "radical" candidates, while Mr. Rutledge ordered his name off the ballot because a former service man was in the race. Col. Leach having commanded the 101st Field Artillery during the war.

Contests will take place for city treasurer, city comptroller, municipal Judge, board of estimate and taxation, park commissioners, school and library directors, and for one alderman in each of the 13 wards. Half the 26 aldermen are elected every two years for a four-year term.

Next in importance to the contest for mayor, is the race for membership in the city council. Candidates with the endorsement of the Socialist party, seven of which are members of the present council and four of these who are holdovers, have filed for aldermen in almost every ward, while men with the backing of the Trades and Labor Assembly and the Nonpartisan Political League and the selections of the Republican convention will be the leading contenders for aldermanic offices. In many of the wards, bitter contests have been waged with as many as ten candidates seeking nomination.

The general election will be held on June 13.

INDIAN HELD ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Fort Yates, May 9.—Edward Iron Eyes of Mahito was arrested yesterday and is being held here, pending the return of Supt. Kitch, on the charge of an attempted assault on a country school teacher of this county.

Iron Eyes, who was apprehended yesterday in South Dakota by Deputy Sheriff James Caddell, expressed his willingness to accompany the deputy sheriff to Fort Yates. He is said to have been positively identified by the school teacher. When questioned here after his arrest by Mr. Caddell, Iron Eyes is claimed to have confessed his guilt.

The attempted assault took place two weeks ago Wednesday. Iron Eyes who was up here looking for horses, waylaid the teacher in a ravine where she was on her way home after school. Only after a most heroic struggle, did she succeed in escaping.

AFTER NINE YEARS

Bismarck Testimony Remains Unshaken

Time is the best test of truth. Here is a Bismarck story that has stood the test of time. It is a story with a point which will come straight home to many of us.

Mrs. H. Steinmetz, 113 Second St., Bismarck, says: "Sometime ago I used a couple of boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills from Lenhart's Drug Store and they cured me of a severe dull aching through the small of my back. I had been annoyed for sometime with a lameness and soreness through my joints and a tired and languid feeling and got no relief until I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills. (Statement given October 17, 1910.)

On October 13, 1919 Mrs. Steinmetz said: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills made for me some years ago is still permanent. I am glad to again endorse it and I always recommend Doan's to my friends when I hear them complaining of kidney trouble.

Free ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Steinmetz had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Any discussion of tire prices, however, is incomplete unless COMPARATIVE VALUES are considered. The question is: How many miles do I get from my tires today? And how does this compare with what I received in 1915? Beginning with 1915 and the war standardization movement, which extended over a period of several years, tremendous strides have been made in quality and in the mileage service of tires. The extent to which this is true is not realized by the motoring public. Yet this increase

WAS A "BEAR CAT"

"My wife was never an angel, but after five years of liver and stomach trouble she became a 'bear cat.' No doctor or medicine helped her and we thought there was no help for her. Our grocer told me of May's Wonderful Remedy, which had helped him for the same trouble, so I brought home a bottle, but she promptly threw it out. I got it back and after a week coaxed her into taking it. She is now enjoying the best of health and disposition." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. than today. The lowest point in the history of tire prices was in 1915, and was brought about by the Goodrich Company's Fair List Campaign when a drastic reduction was made for the purpose of eliminating the price inflation which had crept into the industry. This extreme low point was only 20 per cent below present scheduled.

Any discussion of tire prices, however, is incomplete unless COMPARATIVE VALUES are considered. The question is: How many miles do I get from my tires today? And how does this compare with what I received in 1915? Beginning with 1915 and the war standardization movement, which extended over a period of several years, tremendous strides have been made in quality and in the mileage service of tires. The extent to which this is true is not realized by the motoring public. Yet this increase in service is actually measurable. In the first place, consider the actual increase in size. For instance, cord tires made by the leading companies are uniformly 10 per cent over the rated size. Specialization in the production and preparation of raw materials has been of incalculable benefit to tire quality. Remarkable progress has been made in the art of compounding rubber to produce the maximum degree of wear. These salient factors have been supplemented by improved methods of manufacture which have resulted in a uniformity of quality and service absolutely unknown a few years ago. A tangible expression of the greater mileage service now being built into tires is reflected by the higher basis of adjustment generally used by the leading companies. Thus, if a tire proves defective today it is adjusted, under the Goodrich plan, one basis of 6,000 miles if it is of Cord construction. Contrast this with the adjustment basis in use a few years ago, i. e., 3,500 miles, and it is easy to comprehend the great progress made in tire manufacture.

It is not a far-fetched conclusion to say that tires today give from 50 per cent to 100 per cent greater mileage than they did a few years ago. Therefore, if the tire companies were selling mileage today at the 1915 price level, tires would actually cost from $5.00 to $25.00 more than at present. The conclusion is obvious, therefore, that based on comparative service tires cost less today than ever before.

The rubber industry is to be complimented on its rapid progress toward normal. Leaders of the industry frankly state that the recent price re-adjustment is not warranted by their actual factory production costs but that it represents an earnest effort to meet the wishes of the administration and the general public in the establishment of lower price levels on which all classes of trade can unite and transact business.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER

(Established 1873)

A SOUTH SEAS QUEEN

Mrs. Zaher is the name of a woman who is administrator of the island of Budu, between Australia and New Guinea, to which post she was appointed by the government of Queensland.

She is described as white-haired and energetic.

For nine years she has been teacher as well as governor of the native population. During that time she has barred liquor and undesirable white visitors.

The result is said to be that the natives have become industrious, happy, healthy and prosperous, increasing in numbers instead of dying out.

Contact with civilization has been a curse to natives of many such islands. Perhaps civilization isn't bad for them when efficient women have a hand in controlling it.

Speaking of old times, do you remember May 18, 1917, when Congress passed the Selective Service Act?

PEACE IN MEXICO

"It is safe to say," writes a banker in Mexico City, "that at no time since 1910 have political conditions been so satisfactory in Mexico."

Banditry has been eliminated under the new administration. Commercial activity has been given a new and decided impetus by the lack of political wrangling, which, in the last decade, led so often to the shedding of blood and destruction of property.

Mexico is, according to Dr. E. J. Dillon, noted writer, now in Mexico, "about to inaugurate an era of internal reconstruction" a vast change has come over the people.

"The financial condition of Mexico is markedly better," declares H. C. Mostyn, of the Bank of London and Mexico.

"Bleeding Mexico" is a better Mexico. Not because she bled, but because she, at last, learned that peace and production is the key to the combination of the safe of prosperity.

One reason there isn't a freight car shortage now is because there are no sugar profiteers using box cars as warehouses.

CHANCE AND SCIENCE

The goddess chance is associated usually with the gaming table. Luck and science ordinarily are not teammates, but, occasionally they work together.

The man who invented the automatic nailer which nails the sides and bottoms of soap boxes with a marvelous speed, perfected all the parts of his device save one alone with the aid of science. Science couldn't help take nails from a keg and assort them with their heads all up and their points down ready to feed to his hammers.

Luck solved his problem. The nails now are dumped helter-skelter into a box and the box is kept constantly jiggling. The nails, for no scientific reason whatever and simply following the hazy rules of chance, assort themselves and slide prettily down an incline—heads up and points down—ready for use.

Milady, the long strings of beads that make up the portions of your handbag, exclusive of the design, were strung by luck. It would take an endless amount of handwork to lift each bead separately and thread it on a needle. Instead the bead stringer pours a few thousand glass beads in a little bowl set on a wheel that spins rapidly. Then she holds her needle in the mess and for no good reason the beads run up the needle quick as rats into a hole.

INSANITY IN RUSSIA

Most of the real Socialists of the world, as distinct from the Russian offshoot known as the Bolsheviks, owe supreme allegiance to the so-called "Second Internationale," which held its annual conference not long since at Geneva, Switzerland.

Although vigorously reaffirming its eternal opposition to the capitalist system and although it protested bitterly against the treatment by governments of the Russian Soviet government, the Second Internationale, nevertheless, denounced Bolshevism, rejected all methods of violence and terrorism and condemned the plan to turn industrial strikes into political revolution. It advocated a system of legislation and administration by the working class on a democratic basis.

The discussion was summed up in the speech of Thomas Shaw, member of the British delegation and president of the Second Internationale, who attacked Bolshevism as he had when it during his recent visit to Soviet Russia as a member of the British labor commission. In Russia, he said, there was no such thing as a dictatorship of the proletariat. All liberty was abolished, and THE WORKING CLASS WAS OPPRESSED by an autocratic and militaristic regime as that of the czar himself. Said Shaw:

We bring back from Moscow and Petrograd a sad impression of the condition of the laboring class. The workmen have almost no bread to eat. The terror inflicted by Bolshevism is so great that no one dares express his opinions. Arrests are frequent. The Workmen must work—must work as directed and at what they are told."

Evidently European laborites and Socialists of Europe are beginning to see a great light. Fanaticism, terror and wanton murder are not sanity on this mundane sphere.

Wonder how long it'll be until some circus side-show imports a flock of Yap-anese.

YOUR LUXURIES

During the single year 1919 the people of Ohio spent $300,000,000 more for luxuries than was spent in that state for education between the years 1837 and 1919, according to comparative data presented by P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education.

Startling figures!—and, doubtless, North Dakota will show a similar disparity between expenditures for education and luxury.

But in so far as the increasing demand for luxury represents the desire of the common man to live a broader and more comfortable life, there can be no quarrel with luxury, least of all among educators. Indeed, education would fail of its purpose if it did not create in men a desire for other than the bare necessities of existence.

And what are luxuries? Fifteen years ago vacuum cleaners and electric irons were luxuries in Bismarck. These things have become necessities because the housewife has been educated to know that she is not the eternal bondmaid of the ironing board and the broom.

Twenty years ago, the carriage was a luxury of the rich. Today the workman motoring over country roads with his family is a common sight. The automobile has opened up new experiences for the average man. Is the auto, strictly speaking, a luxury?

The advance of civilization is marked by a wider distribution and popularization of the things that we call luxuries when they are enjoyed only by a favored few. What is needed is not less luxury, but a still wider distribution of its benefits.

Biologically speaking, the least important flies are easiest to swat.

DR. BEELER

The Board of Administration is to be congratulated in its selection of Dr. Levi H. Beeler for the presidency of the Minot Normal school. Dr. Beeler is an educator with a national reputation and has been extremely successful in his work in Chicago where he has conducted for several years a training school for teachers for the Chicago city schools.

Dr. Beeler is not an entire stranger in this state. Last year he toured a portion of the state under the auspices of the office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, delivering a number of addresses in the interests of better schools. It was while on this tour that his staunch advocacy of better schools and well trained teachers attracted the attention of local educators. Recorder-Post, Dickinson.

WATER'S WARMING UP

THE BOW IN YOUR HAT

In ancient days hats for huntsmen were made with a buffer, laced with a narrow ribbon and tied in a bow-knot. This helped keep the hat on the hunter's head.

Today the bow is still there, but it is style backed by quality that keeps Gordon Hats on the heads of most men.

The richness of the mellow colors shown in this season's Gordons is due to the quality of the hat.

Batzer, of Hazelton, who accompanied them, remained to oversee the work of drilling a well being drilled by the Lewis and Clark Oil company, of which the men are interested.

HUSTLERS' PACKAGE SOCIAL. At the last regular meeting of the Luther League of the First Lutheran church it was decided to divide the organization into two teams for the purpose of making a special effort the next three months to reduce the indebtedness of the congregation. The Hustlers will open a series of entertainments by holding a package social at the church parlors next Thursday evening. Friends of the church are invited to attend and requested to bring a package. To all those bringing a package, refreshments will be served free of charge, and those who do not bring packages may buy refreshments.

HUSBAND AND WIFE BOTH SICK. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Comer, Shebandah, Va., were both ill. He writes: "Rheumatism and bladder trouble was our trouble. My wife had rheumatism in her arms so she could not use them. She has had no trouble since taking Foley Kidney Pills. I don't have to get up at night so much since taking Foley Kidney Pills, nor have I a weak back." Editor Tribune:

I am just learning to drive an auto, and wish to inform some of the drivers of cars that it appears that they have never been at the stage where one who is just learning the mysteries of clutch, brake, spark, battery, and 101 other things, from the way they disregard traffic rules. They speed about 25 miles per hour, they make the north and south runs just as they would the east and west, seemingly forgetting that there is a rule that the east and west cars have the preference. Since they were novices once upon a time it seems to me that they would gladly assist one who is just learning, rather than make it doubly hard for them. There should be more of a co-operative spirit shown amongst all drivers of cars, assisting one another, and especially showing a little more respect to the new drivers. Unless steps are taken by all there will be a serious accident, and then it will be too late to start enforcing the law. Why wait for that time before something is done. Start now.

A minor accident to the equipment during the short season is liable to hold up work one year. For it took seven weeks to land 16 tons of equipment at Fort Norman—and a complete rig weighs 60 tons.

The work is full of hazards. Two Imperial Oil geologists lost their lives on Great Slave Lake last summer. Our party of six was almost lost in the Smith Rapids.

Before the building of a railroad or pipe line an output of 30,000 barrels of oil a day must be assured. That will require an expenditure that cannot even be guessed at. The building of a pipe line will require about $50,000,000. The building of a railroad will cost about $30,000 a mile.

A great sum of money will be required to put the Fort Norman field, even if there is plenty of oil there, on a paying basis.

Normal Talmadge has two leading men in her latest starring vehicle, "The Passion Flower." They are Courtenay Foote and Harrison Ford. Natalie Talmadge also has a part with her star-sister in this production, which was directed by Herbert Brenson. The story is an adaptation of Jacinto Benavente's stage play of Castilian peasant life. Released by Associated-First National, it will open an engagement of two days at the Eltinge theater on Wednesday.

"PAYING THE PIPER" SCORES. Dorothy Dickson, a celebrated New York dancer, has scored a hit in the new Paramount picture, "Paying the Piper," at the Bismarck theater this week. The story has to do with the white lights of Broadway, and there are many thrills in its development. The picture is well worth seeing.

"PAYING THE PIPER"

She was all that moralists scorn in New York's idle rich. Lolling in luxury. Playing with fire. Feeding her shallow soul on Broadway's lights and society's shady intrigues. And here is pictured the life she led! In all its luring adventure, all its reckless pleasure, all the staggering price she paid to Satan who piped while she danced and loved. A gorgeous epic of Metropolitan Fashion, in villa, town house and cafe. Decked with merry midnight parties and backstage theatre scenes in the "Roaring Forties." Yet rising into a romance of simple service and wholesome human hearts.
